

Region IX Awards Committee
Malcolm D. Silver Award Criteria

MALCOLM D. SILVER AWARD

Sponsored by: Region IX

$1,000.00

This prestigious Award will normally be made annually to the technologist who presents in writing the best article, published or unpublished, which in the opinion of the Awards Committee, contributes to the progress and development of histotechnology as a profession.

You are invited to accept this challenge and encourage your colleagues to do the same.

Application forms may be obtained from the Region IX Director, or downloaded from the website:

<http://www.nshregionix.org/awards.html>

Award criteria:

Award applicant must be a current NSH Region IX member with membership of at least one year prior to nomination or application. Successful recipients may qualify for this award only once every two years.

This can be a nominated or a self nomination process.

- Candidate must be the primary author of the article and must be actively involved in the field of Histotechnology (anatomy, histochemistry, microscopy, molecular biology, immunohistochemistry, etc.) human or animal
- Your article will be published in the regional newsletter with copyright approval
- A copy of the article and an application must be submitted by the deadline to the current Regional Director

Selection:

- The Regional Director will hold all submissions until deadline date.
- The director will then send copies of all submissions to the Awards chair for evaluation by a select committee
- The committee will be selected by the Regional Director and the Awards Chair - based on their expertise in the selected field.
- The names and all identification of the author will be removed from the articles before being sent to the committee.
- The final decision will only be known by the Regional Director, Awards Chair and the Treasurer.
- If there are no submissions that fit the criteria, an award will not be presented that year.

Application deadline: June 15th of the year the award is presented.

This award will be presented by the Region IX Awards committee at the NSH S/C Region IX meeting.

Award:

$1,000.00 to be used to travel to the convention to accept the award or to be used within two years to travel to an NSH sponsored meeting. Funds will revert back to Region IX funds if not used within the two year period.
